鑑定スキルのおかげで最強になりました

本当にそんなに成功を望んでいません

作：秋月忍

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 1

Chapter 1: Getting caught up in the hero summoning

My name is Mukouda Tsuyoshi. By the way, I'm 27 years old and single.

I am a plain old salaryman living in Tokyo.

If you ask why I am in this fantasy world of swords and sorcery that looks medieval Europ-ish, it's because I got involved in a "Hero Summoning" ritual.

To kill time, I often read web novels and thus, have read a lot of similar stories, but I never did expect this to happen to me in reality.

Moreover, I'm not a hero but just a random person that got involved …… It's become a joke.

That joke of a ritual, "Hero Summoning", was conducted in a country called Reijseger. (TN: Reiseheru in Japanese)

Even though 3 Heroes were supposed to be summoned, 4 people appeared, causing everyone at the ritual to show a bewildered expression.

But you know, the four of us who had been suddenly summoned in an entirely different world are the most surprised.

And despite all that, we were also called "Heroes-sama".

I often read light novels so I soon realised that we had been summoned in another world. (TN: this confused meピンときたけど; I guess this is the sfx of realization?)

Honestly, with them calling us Heroes-sama, I had expected something great of my abilities.

Nevertheless, my expectations were let down.

That’s because we had our status appraised immediately after our summoning.

Using some magic instruments or some random tool, they had examined me.

From the appraisal of our status, everyone else (who seem to be wearing uniforms and are probably high school students) had “Hero from another world that finally came” as their job title, whereas mine was simply “Person from another world that got involved”.

Furthermore, the three of them had physical strength and magical power stats at between 700 and 800, while mine was at around 100.

Even so, it can be said that I had some decent powers because it exceeds the average of this world.

Still, I unmistakeably do not need consoling because of the huge disparity in stats with the other three.

The number of skills I have and the other three have are totally different.

Apart from the common skills and item box, they also have the holy sword technique, holy spear technique and the holy magic skills which greatly shocked the esteemed people. (TN: seems weird that the author calls them that but in the raws: お偉いさんたち)

In addition, their magical skills comprised of other elements like fire, water, earth, light, electric and ice.

I’m sure they are cheaters.

In comparison, I have a unique skill called “Online Supermarket”.

I had the “no way, what the heck is this” feeling.

Well, I do know what the “internet supermarket” skill is.

I’m so going to be completely in their care. (TN: I think the MC is saying he know his skill sucks and he is gonna get carried by the other three?)

But a skill is a skill.

Although there will be many other variations of magical stuffs (TN: skills and tools).

For us who came from another world, we have completely no clue about current situation. Perhaps because they were ignorant, the three other heroes started to joke about how I would be treated as useless thanks to my unique skill. (TN: not sure about this paragraph. Could someone enlighten me? Raws: 異世界人には何のこっちゃさっぱりわからん状態だし、勇者な３人には笑われるしで、この固有スキルのおかげですぐさま役立たず的な扱いになったよ。)

Nevertheless, there is no mistake that I was summoned from the “Hero Summoning” and that I can have an audience with the king. Still the king’s reason (for our summoning) was kinda fishy.

The King said:

- The Demon Lord does not intend to rule this country but has been invading it again and again
- We are still able to hold back the invasion, but we are not sure if we can keep it up.
- In this current situation, the people are suffering.
- In desperate hopes, we decided to proceed with the ancient ritual of “Hero Summoning”.
- Apart from conveniently summoning you all, we selfishly hope that you can lend a hand to this country.
- We do not know the method to send you back to your original world, but the Demon Lord who has lived for a long time and is exceptionally skilled in magic probably knows something.

Well, I had a feeling from the way he spoke.

Clearly, this is all very suspicious.

Especially the part on the method of returning to our original world.

In addition, despite how the king had spoken about the dire situation they are in, I can’t sense any despair from the people in here .

Furthermore, the king is a fat old man wearing a mantle that has sparkly jewels on it which probably cost a bomb.

Adjacent to the king was the queen and between them, was the princess who was wearing a really super-luxurious eye-catching dress.

The king and the royals were anxious about the suffering of the people, but should they be flaunting their luxuries in that manner?

After combining my observations and what I have heard, I arrived at the conclusion that this is a meaningless type of out-of-world summoning. (TN: I think the character is comparing between the premise of light novels he has read and his current situation)

The “Heroes” here, in the end, would simply be tools to expand territory. In short, probably to be used as the country pleases.

Nevertheless, because I’m not a “Hero”, I’ll probably be given indecent treatment, or in the worst case scenario, I would be executed.

From here, I determined that the best option is to get out of the castle immediately.

So for now, this is what I said unskillfully.

“Since I am not a hero, staying here will simply bring inconvenience to everyone. I feel painfully sorry about it and thus, request that I receive living expenses for the 2-3 months which I require while finding employment.”

Thereafter, I was expelled out of the castle after receiving 20 gold coins. This is to be expected since they can simply get rid of me, the nuisance, just by paying.

And so, this is how I ended up on the capital’s streets.

I have no idea whether 20 gold coins are worth a lot or little, but still, I managed to obtain it in a short amount of time.

It is important to quickly learn the value of currency here and learn more about this world.

And later, if possible, get out of this country as soon as possible.

Judging from the King-sama, this country does not seem like a good one, and I have the feeling that staying here would not lead me to a good end.

Right, if I am going to do as planned, I have to take action fast.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 2

Chapter 2: Trying to learn from kids

The capital is a city like medieval Europe.

I first started by calling out to the street children that were gathering at the place.

“Do you have some time to spare? I just came from the countryside and I am quite unfamiliar with this country. I’ll treat you to that meat skewer from the food stand if you could teach me.”

At first they were a bit doubtful, but they eventually gave in to their appetites and gave me an OK.

I gave the kids 2 skewers each and listened to the information they provided.

First and foremost is the value of currency which is very very v-very important. And no, this is not an overstatement.

1 piece of iron coin = 10 Yen

1 piece of copper coin = 100 Yen

1 piece of silver coin = 1,000 Yen

1 piece of gold coin = 10,000 Yen

1 piece of big gold coin = 100,000 Yen

1 piece of platinum coin = 1,000,000 Yen

After listening for a while, I deduced that the currency value is something like that.

The skewers that I treated the kids with cost 5 iron coins per stick.

It seems that a family of 4 would spend a minimum of 6 gold coins per month.

Also, there are adventurer guilds and merchant guilds that are independent of the country (this is a staple of the fantasy genre in light novels right?). By being affiliated to either one, travelling between country to country and city to city will be smoother.

The main point is that it seems that it's not expensive to join them.

Excluding people with identification papers such as guild cards from either merchant or adventurer guilds, people without identification papers (ruralites or the street children, like me, do not have identification papers) would need to pay taxes while entering the country or cities.

This place here is an example.

And then, I heard more about this country.

It appears that the conflict with the demon race is true, but it seems that this country was the one trying to pick a fight.

It was said that the reason for destroying the demon race was for revenge. Still, at the end of the day, it looks like the real aim is to conquer the demon race's territory.

The neighbouring states that are governed by the human race are expected to go to war (TN: Raws says キナ臭いことになっていて = "expected to have burning smell", which to me means "expected to burn", and after inferring means "go to war"), and people are slowly starting to escape from this country, so I heard.

They said they were orphans that lost their parents from the war.

These kids are surprisingly well-informed.

They said they have been taking up odd jobs, earning money to survive, and in the process, gained experience.

These children have strong wills.

Anyways, I would be staying at this inn tonight and by tomorrow, I will leave the capital.

Hearing from the kids, there is a stagecoach (TN: horse-driven carriage) operating daily from the capital all the way to Kiers (TN: Kiirusu; raws: キールス), a neighbouring state near the borders, and I could ride on it to reach the borders.

After that, I would walk to the neighbouring country, and decide what to do next when I'm there.

In any case, leaving the Reijseger capital is the number 1 priority.

In order to do so, I require some cash. Therefore, I need to consider how to obtain it.

Hmm, but I was supplied with 20 gold coins. (TN: 200,000 Yen worth) For one person, it may seem quite generous, but considering that we were sort of abducted through the summoning and the cash is for the apology, this is to some extent reasonable.

In my opinion, it is a good start for me to have received that much from such a dubious country.

Anyways, let's try to survive for the time being.

◇ ◇ ◇ ◇ ◇

I went to a clothing shop that the kids recommended for its reasonable prices.

Right now, I am still wearing the suit that I had on before the summoning and it cannot be helped that I stand out too much.

I bought a dull-coloured shirt and a light brown pants that resemble what people walking around the streets wear.

The clothes cost 7 silver coins in total, much more than I expected, but the shopkeeper also bought my suit, business shirt and business bag for 3 gold coins, so I gained a net total of 2 gold coins and 3 silver coins.

I was thinking of putting the small and portable objects like my smart phone, writing stationery and documents, which were originally in my business bag, in the item box but I do not know how the item box is treated in this world, (TN:

the MC does not know how rare item boxes are) so it is better if I do not go around showing it too easily.

Well, it is a common trend in light novels for item boxes to be considered as precious skills.

Thankfully, the shopkeeper gave me a cloth-made shoulder bag as a freebie, so I am able to put my stuff in there.

As for my leather shoes, it should be fine to leave it as it is.

Before leaving the clothing shop, I asked if there is an affordable inn nearby.

The shopkeeper recommended the inn 3 houses away, and so I headed towards the inn.

One night at the inn including meals would cost 4 silver coins.

After dinner, I retreated back to my room and verified what I had to do.

Firstly ……

[Status open]

[Name] Tsuyoshi Mukouda

[Age] 27

[Occupation] Person from other world who got involved [Level] 1

[Phy. Power] 100

[Magic Power] 100

[Attack] 78

[Defence] 80

[Agility] 75

[Skill] Appraise Item Box

[Unique skills] Online Supermarket

From the explanation I heard at the castle, I understand that by shouting “Status open”, a semi-transparent status window would appear in front of my eyes.

It looks like a summoned hero (speaking of which, I am not a hero T.T) is able to freely appraise any skill by checking his own status.

It is said that normally, one would have to use the prepared magical equipment at the guild branches or temples to appraise one's status.

Speaking of which, a person told me with pride that the status confirmation magical equipment was developed painstakingly by the craftsmen of this country.

Leaving that aside, the people of this world have an average status value of 70, so I guess I'm slightly stronger than average.

Regarding the skill appraisal and item box, all of the other three heroes have it too, so it seems that this is a special privilege of being summoned.

Back when I was at the castle, I heard by accident that the item boxes of summoned people have a large capacity and the legends also say that in the past, summoned heroes were able to kill more than 1000 demons.

Additionally, at the point of being summoned, people who are summoned are able to comprehend the language of this fantasy world.

I think this must be another specialty of summoned people.

This, too, is a norm for all other-world summoning stories, yeah.

The biggest issue here is that I have a unique skill called Online Supermarket.

Of course I know what an Online Supermarket is.

During the holidays, I, who like to slack at home have been greatly making use of it.

I don't hate cooking so I would have my cooking ingredients delivered and after cooking my dishes, I would either eat while watching the drama shows that I have prerecorded, or drink beer while wolfing down light novels to pass time.

That's my routine for a holiday.

Hmm, the question is how do I use this unique skill?

[Online Supermarket]

I chanted it to see if any transformation would occur.

What about touching it?

After touching the words “Online Supermarket”, a change occurred on the display. (TN: nice url) [Isn’t this just like an online supermarket website?]

It was similar to the Aeon website which I often used.

Anyways, I tried putting a 500 ml water bottle that cost 8 iron coins and a sweet bun that cost 1 copper coin into the cart.

No matter how I see it, this reflects the same prices of those items in Japan.

After going through the procedure of purchasing, the message “You have insufficient money. Please top-up” was displayed on a rectangular box beneath.

[So this is about topping up money? Insert into this box?]

I cautiously moved my silver coins near the box … The box quietly absorbed the silver coins inside it.

And then, after confirming the order, silver particles started to appear slowly in front of my eyes.

A cardboard box was delivered.

Opening the cardboard box, I found the water and the sweet bun that was ordered earlier.

[Ohhh, this will be quite useful!]

To the nobles, they knew that the Online Supermarket is not a combat skill but do not understand anything else. The other 3 Heroes that were summoned along with me might have laughed at this skill, but make no mistake, this skill is extremely useful.

As long as I have money, I do not have to be worried about food; as for that money, I could possibly use this skill to earn income too.

This might not seem like a heroic cheat but, with this skill, maybe I can become super-duper rich in this world.

From young, I learned that salt was expensive in countries far from the oceans; things like pepper, spice-like things or even sweet foods can make you as rich as an aristocrat.

I could, with the online supermarket, buy salt, sweets, peppers, at Japan's price and, *jyan*jyan, obtain it. (TN: this sound effect is supposed to mean something that happens non-stop) However, I would be selling them at this world's prices which are far more expensive.

Doing so would reap me huge profits.

Furthermore, I could search for other products that are profitable.

I wonder why, these days, the online supermarkets sell a huge range of products such as clothing or daily necessities other than just food products.

Just as I was pondering about this question and wanted to register with the merchant guild, I realised that it was unwise to register from this country.

If anything happens causing my unique skill or my money-making method to be found out, there is a chance that this country would interrupt my business.

If I am going to register, it will be from the neighbouring country.

In any case, that's for tomorrow.

First, get out of this city and later go towards the neighbouring country.

From tomorrow, I probably won't be able to rest since there are no beds on the journey.

I shall rest for the sake of tomorrow.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 3

Chapter 3: Escaping the capital on the stagecoach

After breakfast, I set off from the inn.

Next, I went to the waiting station and checked out the departure time and when to make payment.

It appears that the stagecoach service cost 1 gold coin and the trip to the city near the borders would take at most 4 days.

There is still some time before departure, so in the meantime, I went to prepare food supplies for the 4 days and also some weapons in case something happens.

Using my Online Supermarket readily in front of people is not good; the item box is also considered a rare skill and using it could cause an uproar, so it’s best I don’t use both.

I bought a leather bag filled with water, dried meat, rye bread, and a slightly larger than normal knife.

Now my preparations are done.

All there’s left is to get on the stagecoach and get out of the capital.

Apart from me, other passengers include a middle aged merchant, a young couple with their two children, and a lady in her mid-thirties.

Also, there were 4 adventurers that were acting as our guards.

After the stagecoach departed, I tried to have a chat with the merchant.

[So, what are you going to buy at Kiers?]

We started an undisturbed friendly conversation.

[Ah, a certain contact of mine wants me to help obtain some soap. I am planning to buy it from my friend's company at Kiers.]

Oh, soap? This world has it too eh.

As I listened further, I learn that even though there exists soap, it is something used by the royalty as I expected.

One piece of soap can fetch around 3 pieces of silver coins if you sell it to the aristocrats, so it seems.

I tried to indirectly learn more about the item box, and from the merchant, I found out that the aristocrats and the big companies are hiring people with such a skill.

Not only is it rare, where one in one thousand have the skill "Item Box", the capacity of the item box depends on the user's magic powers. The aristocrats and big companies are only hiring those with a large capacity item box.

[No matter how small the object I am carrying on my back, it seems that the item box can carry about 3 times of that. Man, I'm so envious of people who have that item box skill!]

The merchant claimed while laughing.

I see, so there are people with the item box skill after all.

I believe if I reduce the item box capacity setting, using it may not be a problem.

[Having the appraisal skill helps a lot in becoming a trader right?]

Since I asked about the item box, I decided to try and talk about the appraisal skill in an indirect way.

[Ah~ having that skill is a dream for all merchants. However, the only people with the appraisal skill are from fairy tales where the heroes are summoned from another world. Yeah, but I do think merchants are the ones that should have the appraisal skills instead of those heroes. The appraisal skill is surely a dream for everyone in the trade industry. Even without the appraisal skill, just allowing the appraisal magical tools to spread would be good enough. Well those are considered ancient relics and are seen very rarely and would have an eye-popping price tag, so even countries and guilds do not possess them.]

Oh, that's good. So it's a skill exclusive to summoned heroes.

And there really exists appraisal magic tools.

Still, because of the crazy high price, an individual cannot possible own it.

Ancient relics mainly appear in high difficulty dungeons so there are limited numbers of them.

I was glad to hear this.

This means the risk of me being appraised is as good as zero.

While having the discussion and talking about numerous topics, I gathered that the middle-aged merchant was attempting to travel to the neighbouring country too.

On this particular topic, the merchant chose to whisper and explained to me frankly.

[There are signs that this country is about to go to war. I think I won't be able to do this if I had a family but, luckily I am unmarried and can quickly get out of the country. There is a rumour that perhaps the borders nearby are going to be closed up.]

Closing the borders? This country is really terrible.

It's good that I managed to quickly assess the situation and make my move.

En route to Kiers, goblins and demon wolves appeared (I mean after all this is a sword and magic fantasy world, and I still hate demons) but were safely suppressed by the adventurers acting as guards, so the stagecoach proceeded smoothly.

◇ ◇ ◇ ◇ ◇

After arriving at Kiers, the merchant told me the location of the waiting station for a stagecoach heading to the neighbouring country.

[You're kidding……]

At the waiting station, a sign that said [Operation of the stagecoach has been suspended] was hanged.

What do you mean it's suspended?

The merchant did say that the borders were about to be closed, is that it?

But still, if the countries' borders were locked up, shouldn't the city be in a state of panic?

For now, it's time to gather information.

To gather info and fill up my belly at the same time, I went to an eatery where adventurers from all sort of countries gathered.

I took the counter seat, and talked to a group of two adventurers that were directly adjacent to me.

[Excuse me?]

[Oh, what's up?]

[Actually, I just arrived at this city and would like to ask about a few things……]

Without hesitation, I called out to the shop employee to order ales for the two of them.

After doing so, the adventurer was like "so you do understand bruh" and was in a good mood to share information with me.

[I see. The suspension of the coach is to prevent people from leaving the country.]

[Ah. If the population decreases, both the number of soldiers and taxes would decrease. If the current situation continues, eventually, the country's borders would have to be closed. Despite already having a conflict with the demon race, this country seems to have the intention to begin a war with the Marlbert country.]

[Right right, it is only a matter of time before war starts.]

Drinking alcohol resulted in the talkativeness of these adventurers.

The demon race's country lies at the north of this country, while Marlbert lies at the west.

If I had to pick where to go, it would be the south-east, where the Veenen country lies at.

[We plan to goodbye to this country real soon.]

[Well, hunting demons fits our personality better than fighting wars. It'll be good if you could quickly get out of this country too.]

Getting out of this country might be difficult. If demons appear, while I might be a tad stronger than the average person; there is still nothing much I can do to fend them off.

This is quite troubling, but I thought of meeting the adventurers.

I could request help from the adventurer's guild and it might work out fine.

It might cost some money, but I can't afford to be stingy in this situation.

Before the borders are completely closed, the first priority should be getting out of this country.

I had decided to hire guards from the adventurer's guild to bring me safely to the neighbouring country.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 4

Chapter 4: Relying on adventurers to protect me

The next morning —

So then, shall I request help from the adventurer's guild?

I could tell right away that the building facing the busy street was the adventurer's guild, but since it was still early, the adventurer's guild was packed with people.

Following how a template story unfolds, I stared hard at the adventurers, pretending not to recognise any of them.

This is how a client should act like.

Going straight to the counter and letting them know I am a client would not create a strong bond. I guess.

After queuing up for a while, it was finally my turn.

[Excuse me, I would like to request help.]

[Request help eh. What kind of help you need?]

[I would need protection to get to Veenen country. I don't have a stage, hence it will just be walking however …… This is my first time requesting help from the adventurer's guild, and I would like to know roughly how large the reward should be for this kind of request]

[Guarding while walking job request right? If it's a bodyguard request, you will need to request help from C rank and above adventurers and also because it is by walking and would take several days, it would probably cost a minimum of 7 pieces of gold coins.]

7 pieces of gold coins are, in relation to how much I have currently, quite a painful sum of money, and the receptionist had even more to say about the price.

[Just that, as you already know, the stagecoach service has been suspended and there has been an increase in the requests for guard escorts. Taking that into account, it'll be better if it is 8 pieces of gold, I think.]

Concerning the increase in requests here, adventurers would probably pick high reward jobs huh.

8 pieces of gold hmm, o~kay.

It might be a painfully large amount of money, but I won't be able to escape the current situation without making some sacrifices.

[I got it. Requested for 8 pieces of gold coins. Also, you need to prepare your own meals, is that acceptable?]

Even though I am paying 8 pieces of gold coins, the receptionist tone was so strict that I added that I will bring my own meals.

It's not like I hate cooking. Moreover, I have the skill that allows me to purchase and choose ingredients and probably can handle it myself.

[Well then, please do so.]

I left behind the reward of 8 pieces of gold coins as deposit at the adventurer's guild.

The next day, the adventurer's guild contacted me so I went down to have a look, and somehow my request had been accepted.

I did not foresee that my guards would be found swiftly, but I was nonetheless grateful that I could leave this country earlier.

The guild had recommended the C rank adventurer party known as "Iron Will".

[I am Werner, the leader of Iron Will. Please entrust it to me.]

[My name is Makooda. (TN: sounds like McCord?) I will be in your care.]

It seems that only the aristocrats have surnames, thus to not attract suspicion, I purposefully named myself only with my surname, which also sounds foreign.

Werner-san seems to be in his early thirties, being a tall 190cm and has a tough-looking figure. He carried a gigantic shield on his back and had a sword hanging from his waist.

Coupled with his bulky arms that had numerous scars all over it, he feels like an experienced adventurer.

Werner introduced his members: Wearing leather armour with a long sword hanging from his waist and appearing to be a swordsman is Vincent; wearing a breastplate while holding a dagger and probably being a scout is a young girl called Lita; wearing the robe, having messy white hair is an uncle (TN: was gonna use old man, but I shall be nice) called Ramon, who is probably a mage; wearing a nun-ish white clothes and is likely a cleric is the approximately 20 years old woman called Franca (btw, she has big boobs).

It can be seen that this party is relatively balanced.

The adventurer's guild would never introduce me comrades that cannot complete the request, therefore, I am going to accept this party.

From the discussion with Werner-san, the departure would be tomorrow and we would meet up at 7am outside the adventurer's guild.

If that is the case, I would have to prepare for the meals real soon huh.

On the way back to the inn, I shopped for essentials for the journey.

First, the mantle.

This is quite indispensable since it is designed to keep out the cold and it will be good to sleep while being wrapped up in it.

Next I went to the general store to buy the various utensils and cutlery.

While I was looking through all the goods, I came across something really good.

It was a magical cooking stove.

As the name suggest, the stove produces fire when magic is passed into it.

There were two different types but both were equally expensive.

However, I had a sudden thought. Won't it be better if I used the Internet Supermarket to buy a gas cartridge stove to use?

The appearance of the gas stove looks exactly the same as the magical stove so if I told the adventurers that is what it is, I likely won't be found out.

Alright, that's what I'll do. The gas stove from the Internet Supermarket is many worlds cheaper anyways.

If that is so, there will be quite a lot of things to buy from the Internet Supermarket, therefore I returned to the inn in a rush.

After returning to the inn, I proceeded to make purchases from the Internet Supermarket.

The gas stove, gas cartridges, pot, frying pan, kitchen knife, chopping board, and most crucial of them all, the ingredients.

Since I need to prepare for 6 of us, the 5 adventurers and myself, there was a great deal to purchase.

Potatoes, carrots and onions were some of the vegetables bought. Other ingredients were cheese, ham, sausages and eggs. Subsequently, I bought side dishes that can be taken out on the go. Next I bought salt, stock cube and other kinds of seasoning.

Due to the buying spree, I spent 2 pieces of gold coins in no time.

Currently I am left with 8 gold, 5 silver, 1 copper and 1 iron.

Gradually, the situation in my wallet has become grimmer, but that has to be endured till the arrival at Veenen.

After reaching Veenen, I would register with the merchant guild and stage my comeback by selling loads of stuff.

And then, stabilise my income while at the same time observing the state of affairs before considering my options.

In order to live safely and peacefully, I need to work harder!

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 5

Chapter 5: Departing towards the neighbouring countries with the adventurers

I arrived outside of the adventurer's guild at the agreed time, but the entire team from Iron Will was already there.

"Sorry for being late."

"It's okay, we just came too early."

The leader of Iron Will, Werner-san said while smiling.

It seems that they have been accustomed to mobilising early.

That's some intense dedication there.

"Shall we make our move then?"

I gave a nod and we left for Veenen.

◇ ◇ ◇ ◇ ◇

The departure from Kiers and begun our journey smoothly.

Iron Will maintained their battle formation throughout.

I stood in the middle of it, while the lead was Rita the scout. On my right is Vincent the swordsman; on my left is the mage Romon; behind me were Franca, the cleric, and Werner-san.

This arrangement is to ensure the protection of the client, me, when the critical moment strikes.

“Is it about time to have a break?”

With Werner’s suggestion, we took a mid-noon break.

As per the agreement, I started to prepare everyone’s meals.

While I say that though, it is not a simple task due to the limited time we have.

Firstly, I took out the gas stove, which was purchased from the Internet Supermarket, from the item box.

“Wow, Makooda-san has the item box skill. In addition, that’s a magical stove, amazing!”

To Vincent’s query, I nodded my head while replying, “Its capacity is pretty small though.”

I heard that there are people with item box skill out there, but most have small capacities, so I set mine to have a small capacity while using it.

I concluded that using it this way is more convenient and is far less suspicious than using it secretly.

“I received this magical stove from an acquaintance of mine. He said he no longer goes out camping and has little opportunities to use it, so I got it at a fairly cheap price.”

I gave the lie I cooked up beforehand without any stuttering.

Lying is one of my weapons too.

While talking to Vincent, I made a simple sandwich using 2 slices of bread, cheese and ham.

Next, I put instant consommé soup base in a wooden cup, and of course, all this was hidden from plain sight.

After pouring water into the cup and boiling it with the gas stove, I announced that lunch is ready.

“Everyone, lunch is ready.”

I passed the sandwich that was on a wooden plate and the soup that was in the cup to the adventurers.

“Well then, let’s eat?”

Everyone started eating after Werner’s signal.

“Y-yummy~”

“This bread is sooo soft, yum~”

“Yep, yep, this bread is amazingly soft and delicious. That soup too is so tasty.”

“This is scrumptious.”

“Delicious……”

Starting from above, Vincent, Franca, Rita, Werner-san, Ramon-san.

I’m relieved they enjoyed it. Still, I might have skipped way too many steps.

The reviews on the bread, especially, surprised me.

This degree of softness of the bread is only available for the aristocrats, they said.

Indeed, the bread I have eaten in this world were mostly black or brown bread which were quite stiff and hard.

In order to explain for the soft white bread, I gave the excuse that “This was the bread baked in my village; I bought lots of them and stored them in the item box before leaving.”

Eating such valuable food made them feel ashamed, and they wanted to return it since it is food after all and can be stored for later, so I had no choice but to keep the food.

I could always restock from the Internet Supermarket, ya know.

“Furthermore, we are very thankful to have warm food while on a journey.”

Everyone nodded at what Werner-san said.

“Hell yeah. Accepting this job was the right choice.”

Usually while on a journey, it is very common to have dried meat or those stiff bread and the like for their meals. Thus, the food that I have brought for the journey seemed like a sumptuous feast for them.

Having such appetising food created a relaxing atmosphere and made them livelier during our chats. This is good since we will be together for quite some time while on the journey.

It appears that even Iron Will has noticed the increasing instability in this country and have discussed among themselves on whether they should move to a neighbouring country.

It looks like they had then noticed my request and felt that it was the perfect job to take, so they received it.

Back then, there were greater rewards for other bodyguard requests, but we are not in dire need of money and this request guaranteed the provision of meals so they thought it was better.

It looks like the food expenses for the 5 of them are not something to be sneezed at.

“I should be the one thanking you all for accepting the request. I, too, had thought of leaving this country as soon as possible, but when I arrived at Kiers, I found out that the stagecoach service had been suspended, so I panicked for a moment. Thanks to all of you, I am now able to head towards Veenen. If you see it in that way, since cooking is my specialty, from now on, everyone can count on me for the food.”

Everyone smiled after hearing that.

The only thing to enjoy is the preparation of the meals, I guess.

I will work hard for this one thing that I can do, so please bring me safely to Veenen.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 6

Chapter 6: I displayed my outrageous skill imba powers

It has been 3 days since our departure from Kiers.

In reality, if I had taken the stagecoach, I would have been entering the Veenen country right about now.

And it will take another half day to reach one of Veenen's border cities – Fallieres.

Still, our mode of transportation is walking. We have only covered half the distance of our total journey.

Although walking is very time consuming, we did not meet with any major problems while on the road.

Iron Will has been rather exceptional and had slain all the demon goblins and wolves we met along the way without much effort.

As expected of a C rank party, this much isn't enough to bring out their full potentials.

"The Sun is about to set. This is as far as we get for today."

It is also time for me to make dinner.

This time, I carefully considered what to have on the menu.

It cannot be too original or elaborate-looking and following the standards of this world's food is not good either, so I made an effort to make something simple.

My plan for today was roasted sausages, pot-au-feu and bread.

Everyone seems to like meat and did not voice any objections to it.

First, I added the sliced bacon into the heated pot. Next, the vegetables and sausages were thrown in. From there, after sautéing, water was poured in. Once the water started to boil, stock cube was added and everything was cooked together under gentle heating.

“Mm, I have a great feeling about this.”

From tasting it, it seems that the saltiness from adding the bacon and sausage is just right so the food should be ready to go.

All there is left is the roasting of the sausages.

“Dinner has arrived~”

I placed the pot-au-feu in a wooden bowl while placing both the roasted sausage and bread on a wooden plate before passing it over to them.

“Aa~ so flavourful. As usual, Makooda-san’s food is top-notch.”

Vincent said as he paused momentarily from his feasting.

Rita responded to that with a “Uh uh” while nodding.

“It’s really yummy. Thanks to the heavenly food, I have this incomparable tingly good feeling all over my body.”

“After eating Makooda-san’s food, I feel more power surging through me than normal too.”

Franca and Rita use of words seem to resemble those of a yes-man.

“Food is extremely important to humans after all. Food, if tasty, changes their way of looking at things, ya know.”

The habitually reserved Ramon commented.

Yep, Ramon-san is pleased with my food. Thanks.

“Indeed it’s like that. People have to eat in order to live. It’s obvious that eating good food is better than eating rubbish. We are in such luck to have the opportunity to eat such divine food while on a journey.”

Lastly, Werner-san summed it up.

I was in total embarrassment thanks to their praises.

This equates to the victory of the Japanese food industry I suppose.

However, what did Franca and Rita mean when they said they felt tingly and a surge of power?

I did not cook up something that incredible though……

It is not some terrible effect though, but I have somehow gotten interested in it.

Let’s do some appraisal shall we?

[Name] Rita

[Age] 16

[Job] Scout

[Level] 18

[Phy. Power] 135 (+27)

[M. Power] 64 (+3)

[Attack] 119

[Def] 107

[Agi] 138

[Skills] Dagger Mastery, Keen Ears, Stealth Step

“Bwahaha”

“W-What happened to you?“

“Gohohogohogohogoho, erm, no, so-, something in the soup had gotten into my throat, relax, gohohoo…”

Wha, what is this , the +27 and +3.

I had starting laughing aloud instinctively.

It is because of the food I made?

My food is the reason for it?

I tried to appraise the pot-au-feu that was currently on my hands.

[Pot-au-feu]

Description: A pot-au-feu made with ingredients from another world. Physical power is boosted by approximately 20% for one hour.

Oh……

I was right.

Wait wait, if the pot-au-feu raises physical power, what about magic power? Is it the sausage or is it the bread?

[Sausage]

Description: Sausage from another world. Magic power is increased by 2% for 10 minutes.

[Sliced bread]

Description: Sliced bread from another world. Magic power is increased by 1% for 10 minutes.

Right, both the sausage and the sliced bread contributed to it.

Thinking about it, this is really cool.

Just by eating, you can raise your physical power and magical power.

If anybody else knew……

Ughh, this gives me the shivers.

Surely, absolutely, definitely, if somebody knew, It’s gonna be real bad.

Luckily, only summoned heroes have appraisal skills while most countries and guilds do not own a magic tools to do appraisals.

Furthermore, everyone usually use the magical appraisal tool to check their own status so the chance of somebody finding out is very low.

Nobody should be able to learn of this as long as I stay silent on this matter.

My mouth is zipped.

I will definitely not talk about this matter.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 7

Chapter 7: I displayed my outrageous skill imba powers 2

This is the fifth day since we set off from Kiers.

“Let’s set up camp here for today.”

Werner-san always gives the command to set camp when the Sun is about to set.

“Then I shall cook with the red boar meat.”

“Oh, looking forward to it man.”

The red boar was killed on the way by Iron Will. It was a gigantic red-haired demonic pig.

Materials from demonic goblins or wolves (also known as grey wolves) do not fetch a good price so we usually do not pick them after slaying those, but the red boar’s meat, tusk, and hide can all be sold for good money.

As expected of the adventurers, they dissected the boar for its materials real quick.

The problem is that we can’t carry the entire body of the boar since it’s so large.

After hearing them discussing on whether they should throw the cheap parts of the boar meat, I suggested that the meat be stored in my item box, since there is room some room for it.

Due to that, I have permission to use the red boar meat for the meals.

At first I planned to turn it into steak, however that takes time, so I rejected that idea. I am going to cook that.

That is my favourite stir-fried pork with ginger.

First, the red boar meat was thinly sliced. Next, it was pickled thoroughly in Tare sauce that I bought from the Internet Supermarket.

While pickling the meat, I sliced the cabbage into pieces.

By then, the pickled meat was ready for roasting.

As usual, the soup was hastily prepared with instant consommé stock cubes.

“Dinner is done. The red boar meat was cooked according to a hometown recipe. Not sure if it’s going to fit everyone tastes though…”

The stir-fried pork with ginger and cabbage was served up on the wooden plate, and was distributed to everyone along with consommé soup and bread.

“Oh, this is really stirring up my appetite!” (Werner-san) “What in the world is this, crazy good —” (Vincent) “Yum! This is my first time eating something so delicious.” (Rita) “I dislike red boar meat but this is great, wow.” (Franca) “This is my first time eating cabbade raw but, with the meat, it has totally become a real masterpiece!” (Ramon) Oh, the storm of compliments.

It must be the exceptional grade of Tare sauce by that certain company.

The various companies, yep.

Also, they call cabbage as cabbade in this world.

Despite all the praises for my cooking, I think my stir-fried pork with ginger is just average. With that in thought, I proceeded to eat it. All of a sudden, someone called out to me.

“Human, let me have that too.”

The owner of that voice was a wolf. But that wolf had such beautiful fur that it is ridiculous in comparison with all the demonic wolves I have seen so far. It was such a divine wolf.

The adventurers tensed up and did not make even the slightest movement.

“Oi, human, do you not hear me?”

I timidly presented the half-eaten stir-fried pork that I was holding.

With a sound as loud as a bull, the wolf ate everything in one mouthful.

“Mm, it is sufficiently delicious. Bring me more.”

“Fe, it’s a Fenrir……”

Werner-san muttered under his breath as he broke out in cold sweat.

So it is a demon that even petrifies adequately experienced adventurers like Iron Will?

Wha, what shall we do? Even though we are so close to the Veenen country …

“Ma, Makooda-san, just do as you are told.”

Werner-san might have said that, but we don’t have any stir-fried pork left.

This wolf can understand human language, so if I do as Werner-san says, there is a chance we can make out of this unscathed.

“Urm, urmm, I need to make some more, co-could you wait a bit longer?”

“Umu. You better not make me wait for too long.”

I speedily cooked the stir-fried pork with ginger in hopes that we can escape the Fenrir.

The Fenrir gluttonously ate the stir-fried pork I made.

The Fenrir kept demanding for more, and in the end, nearly 7 to 8 kg worth of stir-fried pork with ginger was made.

“Gebuu. That was tasty. Even then, to have satisfied me with so little meat, you have done well.”

Excuse me? That was around 7 to 8 kg you know?

And that’s like how much you normally eat?

“Umu, we will form a contract.”

…… Huh?

What contract?

“Oi, are you listening? I’m telling you to form a familiar contract with me.”

I remember that I had read this kind of genre somewhere before. It was something like tamers right?

Wrong wrong wrong wrong wrong.

It is a demon that speaks, no?

A demon that even petrifies Iron Will, no?

To form a familiar contract with such a demon …… that’s crazy isn’t it?

“Erm, ehh, I reje ‘nu?’ ”

“No, um, I was saying, I rejec ‘aa?’ ” (TN: I think the wolf is using some spell to prevent him from saying it) “……”

This bastard, he does not intend to let me reject the offer.

“It is an impossible thought but, are you perhaps thinking of rejecting a contract with me, a Fenrir who is a descendant of the Wind Goddess Ninlil ? I don’t think you will do something that appalling, so what do you say? Hm?”

Fenrir, a demon that speaks the human language? The members of Iron Will signalled to me using eye contact that anything is fine, and I should just agree to it.

There is no way out of this, right?

Screw this, so I only had one option right from the start.

I reluctantly said, “ I understand.” The Fenrir seemed satisfied and gave an “Umu” while nodding.

“Come here.”

I had no choice but to go closer to the Fenrir.

“Come even closer. You need to be right in front of my eyes.”

Being told by the Fenrir, I went right in front of his eyes.”

“We will start the contract ritual now.”

After saying that, the Fenrir placed his forehand on mine.

After the contact with the Fenrir's forehead, my body glowed momentarily.

"That concludes our contract. Hm? Master, you have the appraisal skill, Are you a summoned hero?"

O, oiiiii.

I immediately restrained Fenrir's mouth.

"Mogomogomogo, oi, what are you doing."

I whispered, "That, that is absolutely confidential".

"Oh, is that it? I understand then. Well then, I shall check your status."

Fenrir had understood and spoke in a soft voice in which only I can hear.

Because of Fenrir's insistence, I checked my status.

[Status Open]

[Name] Tsuyoshi Mukouda

[Age] 27

[Occupation] Person from other world who got involved [Level] 1

[Phy. Power] 100

[Magic Power] 100

[Attack] 78

[Defence] 80

[Agility] 75

[Skill] Appraise Item Box

Familiar Demon

<Contracted Demon> Fenrir

[Unique skills] Online Supermarket

What, my skills have increased.

"Umu, seems good."

“Eh, you can see it?”

“Who do you think I am? Being the descendant of Ninlil, the Wind Goddess, I should at least have the appraisal skill.”

Is that the difference? Anyways, what happens after the contract?

“Now, I am the familiar of my master. As my master, you need to at least take care of me. Are we in agreement?”

Understand? Eh, really?

By taking care, you mean like caring for a pet?

“Don’t forget my three meals a day. I will be looking forward to it.”

…… Oi.

By three meals a day, do you mean that you are so hooked on my food that you decided to be my familiar?

That’s the case right?

“Oi, the people over there, I have concluded the contract with this guy. Don’t need to feel scared, it’s not like I would attack you guys.”

From hearing Fenrir’s voice, everyone from Iron Will were startled.

“Erm, everyone, this is Fenrir? He understands the human language and it looks like it will be alright ……”

“Oh, I just remembered. After forming the familiar contract, master, you have to name me.”

“Eh – that is so sudden. Um so it will be, Pochi.” (TN: means dot, point, tip)
“Master, do you take me for a fool?”

I said Pochi on the spur of the moment.

How should I put it, this scary dude was kinda lured by food and really does seem like an idiot to me.

“Hey, don’t get pissed. How about Koro?”

After saying that, Fenrir got into a bigger fit.

What the heck, this guy is really selfish.

“OK, since you are a Fenrir, how bout Feru?”

Why are you looking so proud now?

With that, Fenrir’s name is now Feru.

While doing all that, Iron Will started to move.

Among them, the fastest to get up was Werner-san and he said weakly.

“Ma, Makooda-san …….”

“Ah, are you alright, Werner-san?”

“Ah, ahh, I’m fine but… Don’t tell me this really is the legendary Fenrir……”

Eh? You say legendary? The guy who got baited by food?

“300 years ago, there was a witness record of this legend but, I have never heard about a Fenrir forming a familiar contract.”

Eh ——.

“Well, I am the only Fenrir left. From what I have heard, 700 years ago, there was an incident where a contract was formed with a Fenrir. I myself was born 1000 years ago, and this is my first time forming a contract.”

Whoa, 1000 years of living huh?

“Just because the Fenrir wanted to eat delicious foods. My decades of working under others have not been in vain.”

Ah— Ah—Ah—, I just said that.

After all, he did say he was after the food.

It’s said that this guy is a legendary beast, but I wonder if he is really any good.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 8

Chapter 8: Please pay for your own meals part 1

Part 1

Since the strange incident in which Feru the Fenrir joined us on our journey, we have continued travelling towards Veenen and are nearly reaching it.

The formation was like this: I am right in the centre, Rita is at front, on the left is Vincent, on the right is Ramon-san, right-back is Franca, left-back is Werner-san and finally, Feru was at the back of the formation, following clumsily.

Werner-san seemed to be in deep thought and gave a sigh.

“What’s wrong? Werner-san.”

“No, we are about to reach the borders but, I still have no idea what can be done in our current plight.”

Hm? What plight?

“Nonono, Makooda-san, we will definitely stop this.”

Vincent glanced back before saying.

Ah—, it’s because Feru is here.

“All the border guards would be very curious I suppose. However, I think they will realise we have no ill intentions and let us go.”

“Werner, before they even do that, there would be a confrontation with the imperial army even if Fenrir has no intention to fight.”

“What Ramon said make sense.”

“Eh, that Fenrirs once destroyed an entire country is not just a nursery-tale?”

“Rita, that is treated as a historical fact you know?”

Wait, was I hearing things?

About destroying an entire country, is that not a joke?

“Even if they recognise Fenrir as a familiar and let us in the country, this time, I’m sure, the whole country will be after us.”

Werner-san said that as he looked upon me.

Wait, me? This time what?

“They would think that Makooda-san, who has contracted with the Fenrir, would unlikely leave the country alone. If Makooda-san wanted to take control of the country, the Fenrir would definitely help out.”

Eh, Ra-Ramon-san, is that true?

It would be extremely troublesome if the country spread such rumours.

[No worries. If they plan to inflict harm on me or this fella, we will just take on their challenge.] (TN: I will now use square brackets when Feru talks since the author is using some special quotations too.) “Nonono, T-That’s too excessive. Fenrir-sama……”

[It’s Feru.]

“… If Feru-sama actually went all out, the country would really be wiped out.”

[If we are going to get our hands dirty, isn’t destroying a good thing?]

F-Feru-san, isn’t that a little too much enthusiasm?

[If you don’t like it, then I won’t make any moves. It’s easy.]

Hearing what Feru had said, everyone’s mouth became wide open.

[Speaking of that, isn’t the time to have our meals?]

Thus it became break time.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 9

Chapter 9: Entering Veenen

The Veenen country is right before our eyes.

We can see the border fortress from here.

We shuffled slowly and quietly to avoid detection, nevertheless, the guards still came out from the fortress.

Ha~, I knew it would come down to this.

I sighed while looking at the clumsy Feru follow with heavy footsteps.

“There are loads of soldiers coming out huh……”

“It’s cause Feru-sama is here. I’ll go ahead and explain the circumstances to them.”

After saying that, Werner-san ran towards the fortress.

This is so annoying.

The soldiers were already lined up and waiting for Werner-san.

“I am Edgar Wollgard, the commander of the 4th Knight Squadron of Veenen. I have heard from Mr Werner. About the claim that the Fenrir has formed a familiar contract with you, is that true?”

I can see that among the guards, this commander-san has the highest rank (he has a surname too, so he might just be an aristocrat), and that there is a very tense aura around him as he spoke.

This is because Feru is around.

The guards that are supposed to be ready to deal with all sorts of situations were holding on to their weapons.

What to do, this is the legendary beast, even if the legend is centuries old.

“Yes, I have formed a familiar contract with this Fenrir.”

The guards gave off an “Ohh” as they listened to what I said.

“I see. Still, this is a Fenrir that can single-handedly destroy a country that we are talking about. Are you very sure that no harm will come upon this country and its people?”

As the people entrusted with the security of this country, these guards’ concerns are reasonable.

“Oi, Feru. The people here are worried that you are as strong as the legends claim and are extremely worried about you entering the country. They would be troubled if you were to become violent while in the country. Feru, could you promise never to do such a thing?”

[Nu, don’t put me in the same league as the other dumb demons. As long as no harm comes towards my master and I, I would not do anything aggressive.]

“As you have heard. Commander-sama.”

The commander gave an astonished face as he observed the exchange between Feru and I.

“This is really a legendary beast that has formed a familiar contract huh …… Even though it is right in front of me, I still can’t believe it……”

That’s right, commander-sama.

While I didn’t understand anything about Fenrirs, I was forced to form a familiar contract.

“Judging from the conversation, the familiar contract seems to be real. If that is the case, I shall grant permission for entry. However, please hold tight the reins of your Fenrir familiar.”

“Yes, I am aware. Oi, Feru, please behave yourself ok?”

[I know what to do. As I said earlier, if nobody strikes at us first, I do not intend to do anything dangerous.]

“I’m counting on you to really, really behave yourself. If anything happens, it will be my fault, you see.”

[Are you a broken record?]

“Please, you need to be very careful and pay attention to all your actions. Ah, if you cause anyone trouble, it will mean no food for you.”

[Gu……]

Somehow we managed to receive permission to enter the country, but I pray that nothing strange happens.

If anything does happen, the sin would be on me.

“I see. As the Fenrir seems to be well-tamed, it is unlikely that troublesome situations occur while in the country.”

The commander-san said while appearing to be relieved.

“Commander-san, I think that the likelihood of such situations is almost zero. We were there when Makooda-san formed the contract with the Fenrir, and ever since the Fenrir tagged along with us, Feru-sama has not shown any reckless or violent acts.”

“It is as Rita says. For example, Makooda-san had once instructed Feru-sama to bring back prey. I was so shocked at that.”

Rita, I was surprised too.

Feru captured and brought back the prey to secure his own portion of food though.

Well, she didn’t say that the capturing was for my sake so, saying that isn’t wrong too.

“Whoa, this means you are totally in control?”

Hey commander-san, why did you go “whoa”?

I really wanted to go up and keep his mouth shut; can’t he tell that there are some things you can’t say?

Forget it, doing that would be problematic.

After all that, we managed to get permission for entry and safely descended into Veenen.

By the way, I did not have a guild card so I had to pay 5 silver coins for entry tax.

Also, the taxes applies to familiars too so I had to pay 2 silver coins for Feru’s entry.

My wallet is trembling thanks to having to pay for Feru too.

I have to quickly become a member of the merchant guild.

After entering the country, our objective was to get to the city near Veenen’s border, Fallieres.

“So relieved that we made it in the country safely. Thank you everyone.”

It was crazy in the first place to travel alone in this world where there are monsters and demons. Hence, I was grateful towards Iron Will.

Furthermore, they even helped to explain about Feru, allowing me to enter this country.

“No, we also had a good learning experience from this. We had the opportunity to see the legendary beast Fenrir and could even talk to him.”

“It is as the leader says. I’m so proud of us now.”

“I am of the same opinion with Vincent, I’m so proud of everyone. To even meet with the Fenrir that appears in fairy-tales.”

“To have seen a Fenrir in my lifetime … it is more blessings than I can receive as an adventurer.”

Indeed, the existence of Feru really had a big impact on them.

“Still, it looks like Makooda-san would be very busy from now on.”

Werner-san, what do you mean by becoming more busy?

“The fact that a Fenrir and its master have entered the country would, of course, be known to Margrave Lindell that is in charge of this area. It is likely that the King would know after that and take action too.”

Gee, I knew it would turn out like that.

“Moreover, the commander has seen the relationship between Makooda-san and the Fenrir clearly, so the country probably would try to win you over at all costs.”

Perhaps the commander was plotting to do so huh?

“Even if that is the case, I have no intention of stopping at this country, thus if it comes down to that, I would discuss further with Feru and think about it.”

“Hahaha, I see. As long as you have Feru-sama with you, they can’t force anything upon you I suppose.”

I have to rely on Feru, but that is the only way.

I came from an entirely different world and I’m curious to know and see all sorts of things here.

From this journey, I learned that I probably can use my Internet Supermarket to make profits while travelling. I think doing that would be very satisfying indeed.

It would be so romantic to travel in another world.

“Since you don’t want to stay in this country, how about travelling?”

Werner-san queried while nodding his head.

“I have been thinking that there are still a lot of things that I want to see.”

“Indeed. If that is so, joining the adventurer’s guild would be a better choice in my opinion.”

Eh, the adventurer’s guild? I had no wish to become an adventurer though.

“The adventurer’s guild? I was always thinking about registering with the merchant's guild. Since I can cook, I could make money by setting up stalls while travelling, sometimes with the right connections, I could drop off goods too."

"But still ……"

Werner-san had a pensive look on his face while looking at Feru.

"Makooda-san, are you going to make Feru-sama continue hunting for his own food portion?"

That is a given so I nodded.

"Even if that is so, what about the dissection of the hunted monsters?"

Ah, that huh?

"Furthermore, considering the preys, such as the rockbird, that Feru can capture, they are usually high ranked. If that is the case, the adventurer's guild is most ideal as they are willing to purchase the raw materials from you."

True.

It would be of great help to my livelihood if I can find somebody to purchase those raw materials all the time.

Still, an adventurer? Un-n.

"Makooda-san, you seem to be having great difficulty deciding, so why don't you just register for both of them?"

Vincent heard our conversation and chipped in.

"That is true. But, is that really possible?"

"Well, their numbers are low but, there are people who register for both the adventurer's guild and merchant guild."

"Ehh, really? Then I shall register for both then."

I have decided to go for both the adventurer's guild and merchant guild.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 10

Chapter 10: Registering with the Merchant Guild

I arrived at the final stop in the journey, the city called Fallieres.

It seems that the city has been informed by the guards at the fortress, so Feru could enter without any fuss.

It wasn't as much as the tax when entering the country, however, it was a bit painful that we had to pay taxes again when entering the city. (2 silver coins for my entry while Feru's entry was 1 silver coin) After passing through the gates, as Werner-san had predicted, a messenger from Margrave Lindell was already waiting for me.

"Is this Makooda-sama? I am the messenger from the Margrave. You may call me Edmond, nice meeting you. Actually, the Margrave has expressed his interest in having a meeting with you."

Ah-it has come, an invitation to a trap.

I have no wish to have the meeting though.

I don't plan to stay in this country for too long either.

I have to reject this politely.

"No way, I am just a mere traveller, how can I meet with the Margrave who is such an awe-inspiring person."

"Nono, Margrave Lindell has insisted on this."

“Nonono”

“Me too, nonono, please follow me.”

In the midst of the heated conversation, Feru came closer.

[Oi, you there. Can you see my master does not want to have the meeting?]

“T-This, F-Fenrir-sama. F-Fenrir-sama, please come along too.”

The appearance of Feru made Edmond scared but he continued to force a smile while talking.

[Fuu, so pretentious. I too do not want to meet with the Margrave. There were such foolish humans in the past, so I know he is probably eyeing my powers.]

“No, nononono, we don’t have such i-intenti ….”

[Stop lying. Do you want to know what happens to those foolish humans that tried to make use of my powers? Hmm?]

“Hi,hiiiiii”

Edmond ran off while screaming after seeing Feru bare his fangs at him.

“Feru, that’s too much.”

“Those kind of stupid people have to be taught the hard way.”

Hehe, is that so?

“Is it alright to conduct yourself like that towards Margrave Lindell’s messenger? Those aristocrats care a lot about their reputation, thus, he might do something in return.”

Werner-san’s concerns are quite valid.

I didn’t expect Feru and myself to go that far earlier.

[Your concerns are unnecessary. If anything happens, I will happily take on their challenge.”

Ohh, I would rely on you Feru-san.

“Hmm, if Feru-sama is going to do that, it would be alright I guess?”

After Werner-san said that, the other members from Iron Will agreed and nodded their heads.

“I doubt the private army of the aristocrats are able to match Feru-sama strength.” (Franca) “I think so too.” (Rita)

“I think, only the Ancient Dragon would be a worthy rival of Feru-sama.” (Vincent) “You can say that again.” (Ramon-san)

I knew there would be dragons, since they are essential for a fantasy world.

But damn, I don’t want to meet one either.

[Mu, the Ancient Dragon? Undeniably, it is probably the only one that can fight with me on equal terms.]

“Eh? Feru-sama has fought with the Ancient Dragon before?”

Vincent seemed to have gotten agitated.

[That was roughly 400 years ago. We had a draw back then, but next time I won’t lose.]

“Wow, amazing! I would have wanted to see a battle between fellow legendary monsters.”

“Me too –”

Vincent and Rita seem to be really excited about all this but Franca and Romon-san seem to be forcing a smile.

“Oioi, calm yourselves. We still need to receive the confirmation signature to show that we have fulfilled our duty to Makooda-san and report that to the adventurer’s guild.

Being asked by Werner-san, I signed on the completion of duty report.

Next, I tried to return the red boar meat that I was tasked to keep, but they said I should at least keep it in exchange for the raw materials of the rockbird.

“Even before bidding farewell, you all want me to keep the red boar meat; I am really well taken care of. Thank you all.”

All of them felt that they couldn’t have made it here without me either.

“We feel more thankful for the good experience we’ve gotten from this and we even had a taste of your culinary skills, so we have no criticism on this excellent job.”

I’m grateful that you feel that way.

“But I still must express my thanks. Please stay in good health.”

“You too, Makooda-san.”

Iron Will waved their hands while leaving.

Alright, I have cleared my first objective, what shall I do next?

I don’t want to stay in this country for long, but in the meantime, I should just register with the guilds.

Werner-san might have advised me to register with the adventurer’s guild but I’ll first visit the merchant guild since that’s what I initially set out for.

“Oi, Feru, time to go to the merchant guild.”

[Mu, Master, you are going to be a businessman?]

“That’s my goal for now. But I still plan to join the adventurer’s guild too. From now on, I expect Feru to hunt but it sucks that I can’t do the dissection. Anyways, the raw materials from the monsters hunted by Feru should be able to cover for our daily expenses. You’re okay with me selling those raw materials right?”

[It doesn’t matter since I have no use for those stuffs. All I care for is good food.]

“Yeah yeah, I get you.”

God, this legendary beast is just a gluttony character.

◇ ◇ ◇ ◇ ◇

Feru and I went to the merchant guild.

With Feru following me, everyone went into full panic mode and I had to frantically explain that he is my familiar before everyone settled down.

Next, I went to the counter to seek explanation on the merchant guild.

Assisting me is Michaela-san who is a real beauty with blond hair and blue eyes.

The contents of the explanation from Michaela-san were something like this:

- The trading guild is an organisation that is beyond the control of the country.
- People in the trading guild can be given 5 different type of ranks:

Iron rank -> Travelling merchant, merchandise/food stands (People with a storefront) Bronze rank -> Private shop (Butcher or grocery type of private stores in the city) Silver rank -> Small-sized company (A reasonably big company in the city) Gold rank -> Middle-sized company (A firm that owns a few branches) Mithril rank -> Large-sized company (Company that owns many branches)

- The registration fee, annual fees and taxes are different depending on rank

Iron rank -> Registration 5 bronze coins -> Annual fees 1 gold coin -> Taxes 2 gold coins Bronze rank -> R: 1 gold coin -> AF: 2 gold coins -> T: 4 gold coins Silver rank -> R: 2 gold coins -> AF: 5 gold coins -> T; 10 gold coins Gold rank -> R: 4 gold coins -> AF: according to no. of stores (ATNOS) -> T: ATNOS

Mithril rank -> R: 8 gold coins -> AF: ATNOS -> T: ATNOS

- The annual fees and taxes have to be paid for within a year from entering the guild.
- Using the day of registration as the reference, membership can be renewed annually. If the annual fees or taxes are not paid for, renewal cannot be done.
- The responsibility for the collection of taxes is on the merchant guilds in each country.
- In the scenario where the guild card is lost, a commission fee that varies according to rank will be required for the reissuing of the card.
- Members involved in illegal business dealings can be expelled as punishment.
- It is possible for people who joined as an Iron rank to progressively advance in rank.

- Feel free to discuss with the guild if there are difficulties in acquiring goods or obtaining investment to own a store.

Expected of a merchant guild.

The things that I wanted to know were all thoroughly explained.

“Well then, what kind of trade are you considering, Makooda-sama?”

About that, I had been thinking about touring the world since I have Feru to protect me, and I don’t have a store right now too.

If that is the case, then I guess Iron rank is right for me.

“I have a familiar currently and I do not have plans to own a shop. Therefore, I think the Iron rank is very suitable for me. May I register for the Iron rank?”

“Thank you very much. The registration would cost 5 silver coins, would like me to proceed?”

I have to be strict on my wallet but the 5 silver coins are needed for the registration.

“Ok, here is your Iron rank guild card. As explained earlier, if you lose this card, there will be a commission fee for the reissuing of the card. It is 8 silver coins for an Iron rank card so please take good care of the guild card.”

8 pieces of silver coins are really a significant sum. I’ll be careful not to lose it.

Oh, I remembered some questions I wanted to ask.

“Excuse me, I still have a few questions. Does the guild purchase anything? Actually, I had obtained some products on my journey ……”

“Purchase? It depends on what it is, but we do buy things.”

Depending on the goods? The merchant guild probably knows what’s good and what’s bad.

I am planning to sell salt and spices to the guild.

This shouldn’t be too big a problem.

“I shall come again tomorrow and bring along the goods I wish to sell.”

“We will be waiting. Thank you for registering with us.”

When I was about to leave the merchant guild that gave good vibes because of the polite staff, I realised.

I had forgotten to ask about a suitable inn which allows Feru and I to stay in.

I hurriedly returned to the counter and consulted Michaela-san.

She recommended the “Vaulting Horse Pavilion”.

She also gave a detailed route to the place so Feru and I could immediately leave for the “Vaulting Horse Pavilion”.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 11

Chapter 11: Eating rice in another world

Michaela-san had claimed that the “Vaulting Horse Pavilion” could house Feru too.

Nevertheless, the price of 1 night including a Familiar would be a whopping 7 silver coins.

My wallet is rapidly becoming lonely.

Feru had been told to go to the Beast Hut under the building and thus went in that direction.

[Oi, I endured throughout the afternoon but, I’m quite hungry now.]

Now that you said it, we really didn’t eat anything for lunch.

It’s because Feru didn’t ask for food.

It might be that Feru is behaving very uncharacteristically.

“My bad my bad. Then I shall make dinner quickly.”

I’m right in front of the beast hut but, even though Feru is the only familiar staying here, it should be alright to cook here.

Subsequently, it is also my turn to eat.

Since I had the red boar meat that Iron Will gave me, the menu for today was steak.

I thought it will be okay if Feru's steak was cut thickly.

And for my dinner, I was really in the mood to eat that.

That which I desire is rice.

However, I only had one gas stove.

Cooking rice would take quite some time … Un~, what shall I do.

Tomorrow would be the day I sell salt and spices to the merchant guild. Therefore, I need to prepare by procuring those. I anticipate that I will receive a sum of money from the transaction and it is not a troublesome item either so should I buy it?

My wallet might be getting lonelier but I really wanna eat rice.

So with that logic, I activated the Online Supermarket to buy rice, a clay-pot and a gas stove. Also, I bought 5 kilograms of salt and 100 grams of spices.

The total cost was about 8 silver coins.

My wallet is getting empty so I am looking forward to tomorrow's trade.

Let's start cooking then.

First, I need to soak the rice in water for around 30 minutes.

In those 30 minutes, I would settle Feru's steak.

I poured some salt and spice over the red boar meat and grilled both sides of the meat on a frying pan.

Its medium rare but it should be fine.

I poured some soy sauce over and placed the steak on a plate. It's completed.

"Here, Feru."

Passing it over to the hungry Feru, the entire steak was chomped down immediately.

That was very thick though.

[Delicious. Gimme more.]

For the sake of Feru, I grilled the steak on the plate.

This is the soy sauce for the next steak.

“Here.”

[Chomp chomp, mu, this has a different taste. I still like it though.]

Fufu, he realised huh.

I used a variety of soy sauces, therefore it had a mixed taste.

The sauce I was using initially had a garlic flavour but the next one has an Oroshi Grated Radish flavour.

It’s really convenient to carry around steak soy sauce.

Frying it together with vegetables would make it tasty, or I could fry garlic soy sauce with rice.

Steak sauces like yakiniku and teriyaki Tare sauce are very handy and I consider them as treasure back at home, so I stocked up on all sorts of them from the Internet Supermarket before setting off on the journey.

Continuing with the grilling of steak for Feru.

Now, it will be onion flavour and after that is butter flavour.

Oh right, it’s about time to cook my rice.

Placing the clay pot over the stove, I slightly increased the strength of the fire to medium level. After boiling for 10 minutes, it will be heated under a weak flame for 5 minutes. Finally, the fire will be extinguished to allow it to cook by steaming for another 20 minutes.

I cooked enough rice for three people but it is okay since I can always keep it in the item box and the rice will still remain freshly cooked.

Yeah, it seems that an item box of a summoned hero has nearly infinite storage capacity and also has the function of stopping time.

I think this alone makes summoning heroes worth it.

During the rice cooking process, I was also rushing to grill Feru’s steaks.

[Give me the flavour of the very first steak I ate for the next one.]

“Garlic flavour is it? Here you go.”

[Garlic flavour is really delish.]

“This flavour is to your liking?”

[Umu. All of them are yummy, but nothing beats the garlic flavoured steak.]

Hoho, I see I see, but my favourite is the onion flavour.

Speaking of that, the rice should be done by now, let’s go over to have a look.

First, I shall fill up the bowl with the freshly cooked rice that is still steaming.

I cut the red boar steak into bite-sized pieces, placed it over the rice and added the onion flavoured soy sauce over it. It’s completed!

This is the red boar steak don.

Well, time to taste it.

“I-incredible”

Munch munch, really good stuff!

Not only is the red boar steak great, the soy sauce had soaked into the rice and is totally delicious.

As expected, a Japanese can’t go without rice.

Rice is the best–est.

[Mu, that looks good. Gimme some too.]

Ehhh, Feru wants some too?

If I don’t give some to him, Feru would definitely kick up a big fuss.

No choice here, the leftover rice went straight into Feru’s tummy. Boo-hoo-hoo. After making some steak don (garlic flavour) for Feru, Feru quickly went into an eating frenzy.

[Umu. Nice. I didn’t expect these grainy things to fit my tastebuds but it’s not bad at al.]

“See? Rice is number 1.”

It’s not that I dislike bread, it’s just that I want to eat rice.

All thanks to the Internet Supermarket, I can enjoy rice even though I am in another world.

I might have had the “wtf?” moment at first, but the Internet Supermarket is really a respectable skill.

Ahh – yummy. Satisfied satisfied.

Feru started licking his own fur. He must be satisfied too I suppose.

Oh, it might be too late now, still, pets like dogs and cats are not supposed to be eating foods with strong flavours.

Furthermore, I think dogs are absolutely not supposed to be given onions to eat?

Feru had eaten a ton of them but whatever, it should be fine.

Feru is an otherworldly demonic beast anyways.

Seeing as how Feru is so lively right now, there is no need for me to worry.

“Well then, I need to return to my room to make preparations for tomorrow.”

[Got it.]

I started getting ready for the tomorrow’s planned transaction of salt and spices with the merchant guild after returning to my room.

The salt and spice that I bought from the Internet Supermarket came packaged in a paper bag and vinyl bag respectively. Of course there is no way I am selling them in their current packaging.

Earlier at the general store, I noticed that salt was sold in jute bags and spices were sold in wooden containers that had a lid over it. Copying those packing method should be good.

I started transferring the salt and spices to their respective bags and containers.

Alright, now my preparations are all okay.

It was such a long day and I am pretty drained, should I sleep now?

As I prayed for a smooth transaction tomorrow, I fell asleep on the long time no see bed.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 12

Chapter 12: Attempting to sell salt and spices

This morning, Feru had been pressing me since early in the morning to cook steak for breakfast again and I got busy making steak again.

Truly a carnivore. I'm not surprised at the rate of consumption of meat.

It was ok since there was still some red boar meat left but, after breakfast, it has been used up.

It will be bad if I don't call Feru to catch more prey soon.

If that is the case, I still need to register with the adventurer's guild too.

After conducting the business with the merchant guild, I think I will try for the adventurer's guild.

It seems today would yet be another busy day.

By the way, my breakfast was a simple ham and cheese sandwich and onion soup.

I shall spare steak for now.

◇ ◇ ◇ ◇ ◇

As planned, I arrived at the merchant guild.

Since my schedule included registering with the adventurer's guild later, Feru tagged along.

Michaela-san, who was in charge yesterday, was at the counter.

“Michaela-san, good morning.”

“Good morning, Makooda-san.”

“I have come today for the trade I mentioned yesterday. These are the goods I have brought.”

I took out the salt in the jute bag and spices in the containers from my item box while saying.

“I shall take a look. This… please forgive me.”

Michaela left her seat when she saw the spices.

Huh, don’t tell me the spices were a bad idea?

Long ago on Earth, spices had the same worth as gold, gram for gram. Perhaps bringing 100 grams of spices was too much.

After a while, Michaela-san returned and guided me to another room. She had Feru stay behind at the counter while I follow Michaela-san to the room.

Inside the room was an uncle in his fifties that still maintained a nice physique.

“Please, have a seat. I am the guildmaster of this guild, you may call me Robert. Pleased to be of acquaintance.”

Oh, the guildmaster is here.

Damn, looks like spices are no good.

Another employee entered to bring the bags of salt and spices and left. The guildmaster said “I shall have a look” before inspecting them.

As expected of the person of the merchant guild who made it to a guildmaster, he used his sharp eyes to confirm the taste and smell.

“I have been in the trade business for many years, but this is the first time I have seen salt and spices of such quality. Completely pure white salt without any weird flavor and spices that give off such a striking smell. I could only express magnificence at this.”

Oh really? The salt was purchased from the Internet Supermarket for just 5 bronze coins while the spices cost about the same.

“I would definitely purchase this but, could you kindly tell me how you obtained these?”

Yes, it came from the Internet Supermarket. The quality of salt and spice that was made in another world is guaranteed. Like I will say that.

“I was in the midst of my journey, when …”

Speaking ambiguously while laughing, I said to the guildmaster, “I am quite the boor. The trader I obtained it from did not readily divulge who the supplier was.”

“Hmm, regarding the amount of money, how about 4 gold coins for the salt and 10 gold coins for the spice?”

“……. Eh?”

Ye, is this a joke? Despite, the cost for the both of them combined was around 1 silver coin and he is offering 4 gold coins for the salt? And another 10 gold coins for the spices?

“You still think it is too low ……? How about 15 gold coins for the both of them?”

Whoa, the amount of money has gone up.

Was it because I was silent and seem to be very hesitant?

That’s wasn’t it, I was just in shock though.

“Ku …… Fine, 17 gold coins. I won’t go any higher than that.”

The guildmaster seem to be misunderstanding something, and the price has gone up again.

“Y-yes, d-deal.”

17 gold coins ……

The cost was just 1 silver coin and now it’s worth 17 gold coins.

This is easy profit man.

Since I was the one that initiated the trade, I doubt it will be an effective method after a few times.

Nevertheless, I am grateful to be able to use such a method to receive this much money.

With this 17 gold coins, I am able to pay for the unpaid iron rank annual fees and taxes.

This kind of fees should be paid immediately when you have enough money to do so.

If the deadline is close and somehow you don't have enough money, it will be really troublesome.

"The annual fees of 1 gold coin and taxes of 2 gold coins will certainly be in our care."

Fuu, now my entire year of membership is secured.

After paying for my bills, 14 gold coins went into my wallet.

Combining with my remaining cash, I had in total, 20 gold coins and 5 each for silver coins, bronze coins and iron coins.

I would be able to manage for some time now.

I also heard that having the merchant guild card can help me gain the trust of other shopowners, allowing me to sell goods to them wholesale.

I have the Internet Supermarket and can sell loads of goods now.

Joining the merchant guild was a good choice.

Now then, should I make my way to the adventurer's guild?

I left the merchant guild with my pockets feeling real warm due to the profits from the sale of the salt and spices.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 13

Tondemo 13

Joining the adventurers guild

So I came to the adventurers guild.

It just the same as the Merchants guild as it is quite a large building when compared to the average of the town.

Inside the guild there is many strong looking people who have weapons at their side.

Though the ratio of warriors to wizards is around 4:1

Well, the occupation of adventurer seems to be quite common So I should join now aswell,

Though I do not have any intention to fight like the other adventurers Though if I do decide to change my mind it will be fine, Though as I lined up many eyes focused on me A have a feeling that because Feru was beside me there was no one who wanted to get involved with me. (これも「お前みたいなのが冒険者だと？　笑わせんなゴラァ」な感じのテンプレなんだろうけど、俺の傍にフェルがいるもんだから手を出せないんだろう。) (ED. we had some trouble translating this line and the one below it, if you guys think we translated incorrectly tell us in the comments thanks guys) I guess it is because feru as a fenrir makes people instinctively scared of getting in his way(フェルがフェンリルだって分かっているのかはわからないけど、フェルに手を出したらヤバいってのだけは本能的に分かってはいるんだろう。) It’s good that Feru is here,

With him here I wasn't entwined into a troublesome situation.

This is a place that I want to leave as quickly as possible Wa, this queue is advancing quite fast

It did not take long for it to be my turn up.

[I would like to register]

[well then, please fill this out, it is no problem if you leave some blank]

The receptionist is quite a beautiful women and also quite polite as well.

But the merchants guild was more polite.

Filling in the form was easy as I learned how to read and write this language when I was summoned as a hero.

The form was mostly just my personal details and my main form of fighting, [The registry fee is five silver. Then please place a drop of your blood on this card]

I handed over the five silver coins and then received the card and a copper needle, I pricked my finger with the needle and dropped a small amount of blood onto the card.

[Registration is complete, due to just signing up you will begin at rank G. please remember that due to this you can only do quests of G and F rank.

Is there no explanation of the guild?

[Is there a problem?]

[Is there an explanation?]

The receptionist's face changed as if thinking"what did I just hear?"

This is kind of necessary as I know nothing about the guild, but the receptionist is visibly annoyed.

The receptionist began to explain but she seemed reluctant She seemed to have lost the good manners she had earlier.

The difference between here and the merchants guild is vast I see Micaela-san gave an explanation with a fake smile from beginning to the end This receptionist did not seem happy at all.

- The adventurers guild is an organisation that does not belong to any country.
- The ranking goes from G~S.
- One can only receive a request from their rank and one above. (ED.personally this makes no sense, but whatever it's not my novel)
- A penalty will be placed if a request is failed.
- If a request is not received for an extended amount of time the registration becomes null and will need to start from G again.

G within 1 month, F and E within 2 months, DCB within 6 months and A and S within 1 year.

- If a crime is committed, registration will be nulled.
- Private wars between adventurers is prohibited.
- The adventurers guild does not take responsibility for any actions a member commits.
- The guild is not responsible for any injury or death of the members.

With that said

It seems that you need to be responsible as an adventurer Because I only just registered I am G rank

If I do not receive a quest in one month I will be removed from the registry I will also be charged again.

So I think doing one quest now would be good If I go, Feru can also hunt.

I left the reception and peeped at the bulletin board, As I am only G rank I can do quests of G rank and F rank G Rank, G Rank, What is a good one?

Temporary request for medical herb collection Kiayu frass x5

One silver coin

Majuu grass x5

One silver and three copper

Both of these temporary quests are prime candidates.

to accept a quest all you do is pull it off the board though this is only for temporary quests.

So then… Kiayu grass it is.

So I headed off to the window with the poster I went to the receptionist who gave me the explanation.

The attitude was now somewhat better but still bad when compared to the merchants guild.

I went out only after hearing where the Kiayu grass grew, Because I have Feru I cannot get lost which is a good thing Outside the east gate was immediately a meadow, Though there is little danger there due to the proximity to the gate I should still arm myself with a short sword.

When I registered I put down Short sword under the weapons category [Well then Feru the first place we will go is the arms shop]

[mu, even though you have me you still want to arm yourself?]

[It's for when you are not around, like when you are out hunting, having a weapon would be much better than being defenceless]

[If that's the case, then I can just cast a barrier against evil]

……..wha?

[can you use such thing as a protection barrier?]

[yes of course I can]

Of course this is the first time I have heard of this being possible Though I know it now it did not show when I used judgement I try to judge Feru once again

[name] Feru

[age] 1014

[family] Fenrir

[level] 906

[physical strength] 9843 (ED. ALL THESE STATS ARE OVER 9000!!!!) [magical power] 9481

[offensive ability] 9036

[defence] 9765

[Agility] 9684

[skill] wind magic fire magic water magic Earth magic Ice magic Thunder magic Holy magic Barrier magic Body reinforcement Attack resistance magic resistance magic effieciency judgement [protection] protection of goddess Ninriru of the wind ……

I was lost for words for a moment

Magic, defence, agility and attack are all nearing counter stop Feru is also 1014 years old.

At that age is it normal to be nearing counterstop?

Such a gluttonous character would usually be a large calamity [Feru, I just judged you and he are quite strong arent you]

[Well that is natural]

Ah, is that so?

Well if it's a barrier against evil I guess there is no harm, However it is best to buy a sword for insurance.

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 14

Tondemo Skill Chapter 14

First Quest,

I entered one of the many weapon shops near the adventurers guild At the shopkeepers recommendation I brought a short sword at eight gold pieces, as the shopkeeper said it was easy to use even as a beginner So then, time to go herb picking.

I went out the east gate the closest to my target,and entered the extremely large meadow that is outside.

I think this is where the herb grows.

[well then since I am here to pick herbs, why don't you go hunting Feru?]

[understood, then I shall put a barrier against evil around master]

[Alrighty then, even If I encounter a demon I should still be safe]

[I also expect a good meal when I get back]

After saying that Feru quickly ran off to the forest Though I respect him, he is certainly gluttonous Now is the herb i want here?

Judgement,Judgement,Judgement,Judgement. (ED: so judgement is appraisal i can change judgement to appraisal or i can keep it as is, it's up to you guys let me know what you want in comments) There is only weeds here

Judgement,Judgement,Judgement.

Kiayu grass.

I found it

This Kiayu grass does look strange though, I then cut the grass from the root At last the knife I bought after so long was used Now then, Judgement, Judgement, Judgement, Judgement.

I again am only finding weeds

Judgement, Judgement, Judgement, Kiayu grass

I found another

Now after this I only need 3 more, Well then I will do my best Judgement, Judgement, Judgement, Judgement, Judgement.

Margin Grass

This is the one that matches the other request, The maju grass is a poor quality Well I guess I should pick it

After words I continued with judgement and totaled 18 kiayu grass and seven maju grass.

Well Feru should be returning soon, so I should start on our lunch, So I buy a meat from the supermarket for Feru the glutton.

Though I do not know how much he will eat today, Thus the menu for today was decided (ED: these two lines came out making no sense (this one and the one above), i edited them to what i thought made sense if you think these may be incorrect tell me in the comments) First from the superarket

One onion, one soup broth cube, 1 kilo of minced meat, a 700 gram bag of pasta and then 10 cans of meat sauce I spent a total of 5 silver and 4 copper coins from what I got from selling the salt and pepper to the merchants guild.

Pasta only takes takes 5 minutes to cook so for now I only boil the water.

So next is the meat sauce. I fry the onion which I minced finely until it is caramelised Then I add the meat.

After the meat is cooked I add the sauce.

Because the moisture became low, I dissolved the stock cube in some boiling water and added to the meat.

I adjust the taste with salt and pepper and then the meat sauce come to completion And then Feru came back

The game he caught was dropped in front of me.

[This dish smells quite nice]

[This, is it a rock bird?]

[I caught it because the teriyaki we had last time was nice, but there is still more at the edge of the forest in a barrier]

As expected only one is the limit Feru can carry.

[Then we should go together and put it in the item box]

I then put the pots and pans, including the food into my item box I didn't forget about the rock bird either [Well then let's go]

[Get on my back and the time will be much shorter I mounted Feru without hesitation (ED: hue hue if you know what i mean ;)…) [then let us go]

[wa, wait a second]

Feru ran away to fast that the only option I had left was to hold on to his back [Wa please slow down~~~~~~~~~~]

……

……

……

[We have arrived]

[I, I, haa , thought I was going to die]

[what a weak guy to gives up like that]

To run at such a speed is definitely scary [When I'm with you, you should atleast go slightly slower]

[yes I will remember that, I don't want master to be sick]

This guy

[oh to say such a thing, maybe you don't need any food.]

[gununu] (is sound effect of being angry, blood boiling) [well then we should quickly collect these demon bodies]

The demons that Feru caught has become a pile at the edge of the forest When I used judgment, ork x5 red boa and black serpent I wonder can I eat the ork

When I asked, he said I could.

Ork is commonly eaten by poorer families in town It’s just like a pig that can walk on two legs I cook for myself but I only use meat from the supermarket, the meat from another world is scary.

I put everything feru caught in my item box and returned to the meadow riding on the back of feru This time it was much safer as feru took his time.

[then when will you want lunch?]

[I’m quite hungry, so as soon as possible]

[please wait a minute and I shall cook the pasta]

I then took the 5 minutes to boil the pasta I put the pasta out on a plate and spread the minced meat and sauce over top And then passed it onto Feru

[mu, what is this?]

[this is meat sauce spaghetti a popular dish]

When I said that, Feru began to eat like , baku baku [there is only a small amount of meat, but it still is very good]

Don’t eat it so fast there is still more I began to boil the next portion of pasta At that time I also ate my lunch I ended up boiling pasta for Feru We ended up eating over 8kg of pasta between the two of us.

Still, eating too much so early is a bit bad After finishing my lunch I couldn’t help but laugh at Feru who had the meat sauce pasted around his mouth.

Though he then panicked and plunged his head into water After lunch I returned to herb picking At the end of the day I had a total of 40 Kiyua grass and 20 maju grass Though I only needed 5

Judgement was very helpful

I had become fully accustomed to using it to find what I needed by the time I finished picking herbs.

Feru also caught a lot of game

Another red Boa, three cockatrice, one giant toad and a mad grizzly.(マーダーグリズリー。) The mad grizzly sounds dangerous I put It away in the item box

After that I went back to the town on Feru Though the person at the gate sent a strange look at me who was riding feru Then should we go to the guild

[feru, to the adventurer guild]

[Understood]

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 15

Chapter 15 Meat is necessary for me

I entered the adventurer guild, but there were not many people around, perhaps its to early for other adventurers.

Maybe I should hand in the remnants of Feru's catch. Before it's too late I lined up at the counter which was almost empty Because there was only two people in front of me It was my turn almost instantly.

When I reached the receptionist I passed up my card and the Kiayu grass [You got he request this morning and have already gotten this much?]

I put up 40 Kiayu grass, so she was right to be surprised]

[Ah, well I Guess I got lucky]

Was 40 too much though?

Though I used appraisal, I kept it a secret [ah , found a big cluster eh?]

The receptionist said so, It does make sense put this way [the request was for 5 Kiayu grass as you have 8 sets the reward has become 6 silver]

I got six coins and then passed over the application for Maju grass For the Maju grass quest I only handed over 5 this time Even though I had more I decided to hand in a little bit.

The remaining maju grass is kept in my item box, which I would use another time [Because there is 5 maju grass, the amount the request specified it comes out as 1 silver and three copper please confirm the amount]

With that I felt relieved

It’s great that I can start a quest and then hand it in immediately And appraisal was also helpful.

Then next is ferus catch

[by any chance do you buy red boa?]

[E? Red boa? But , you are only G rank]

Apparently red boa is not something people of G rank hunt Well looking at it, it is quite large It is impossible to say I hunted it myself [Ah well, I didn’t catch it, my contracted demon did When I said so the receptionist seems to agree that it is possible (ED. this woman is very rude … never underestimate main character kun) [Because it is sale of a large demon please move onto the next window, over there please]

The receptionist today is in a good mood.

The requests were handled quickly so I moved out to the next window as fast as I could.

[excuse me, will you buy this?]

[ah , please take it out and put it here]

The receptionist was an ossan (ED.slightly less rude then calling him an old man) he was very stern faced and not amused.

[ah well there is quite a lot is it ok to put it all here?]

[a large amount, do you have an Item box?]

[yes, then I shall start]

First I take out 5 orc

Then 2 red boa

[woah woah wait please]

Eh, but there’s still more

Then the old man asked me to follow him to the depository [Ah, this is place alright for me to take my contracted demon into?]

I got permission, and then I called feru in Feru and I entered a warehouse behind the purchase window.

[so, you are that guy from the rumor?]

Rumor? What rumor?

[A Guy who has contracted with a fenrir is going to start a rumor if he were to enter town]

ha, it comes from such a thing

Wa, feru is actually quite conspicuous [A guy with a fenrir?]

[well then we should begin]

Rock bird, giant dodo, black serpent, cocatris x3, Giant toad, murder grisly [this is all of it]

The old man opened his mouth in surprise Is this guy alright?

He still hasn't moved yet is he really ok?

But then he finally moved

[this is a great amount, but they are also all strong, Rock bird, giant dodo and the giant toad are all B rank, but you also have the A rank black serpant and the murder grizzly oh, I didn't know these guys were that strong Well all of them are very large so it is as expected Well, I thought they only had dangerous names, but they were actually strong Well, because feru was the one who caught these theres is no problem I was actually able to learn from it

[ah, um, Can I eat all these demons here?]

Well, it is meat

And feru was securing meat for me to cook [Ah, yes you can eat the entirety of these monster, they are all also a high quality item Yay!

I thought I would be able to eat it but I did not expect it to be a high quality product!

It is quite a relief,

[Then am I able to take all the meat and just sell the materials?]

[Even though this meat is worth a lot, do you not want to sell it?]

[no I don't, Feru here is quite the big eater]

The old man seemed disappointed but he looked down at feru with an [Ah I understand] looking face [Well that is possible, but because there is a large amount, please come by tomorrow morning then you can take it back, the money from dismantling will be deducted from the materials]

Well then I will come back tomorrow

But I want meat now

[Is it possible to get meat from one right now?]

[hmm, ah a meal for the demon, then please just wait a moment]

So saying, he handled the red boa

He was quite professional, he skillfully divided the skin, meat and internal organs fast.

The skin will be sold, while the organs will be thrown away [well, this is it]

There seems to be 200kilo of red boa meat passed to me With this I do not need to worry about feru for a while I put the meat in my irem box and thanked the old man as I let the workshop When I walked out into the guild again I got many looks from the adventurers Well I did sell many strong monsters just now….

However feru's meal has been acquired as well (ED. as long as the giant demon wolf is happy so am I)

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 16

Chapter 16 Sweet and sour Chinese miso

When I returned to the inn, feru said he was hungry The sun was beginning to set, I should make a big meal for feru now.

Oh there is no ginger

what will I make today?

Because all feru's eaten lately is meat, he better eat some vegetables today (maybe something with vegetables would be good) 野菜と肉で手早くできるって言ったら野菜炒めか。Are you making stir fry with vegetables and meat ?

フェルの分は肉多めで。for Feru's share it requires too much meat Because of him the amount of meat decreases quite fast,Though I can't really complain as he is the one that catches it I currently have cabbage, onion, carrot and green pepper Though I was bean sprouts and mushrooms, I will just endure through today But because I have seasonings it is ok

First, I cut the meat of the red boa to a good size As it's for feru it is cut quite largely I also cut the vegetables

I rubbed a light amount of salt and pepper onto the red boa and lightly fried it in a pan Frying it with sesame oil, would be better for taste But I just used salad oil as that is what I have currently In the frying pan I put carrot, onion, green pepper, then cabbage. In that order I like to have a slight chewy texture, so I fry just enough to keep that feeling When the Vegetables were done I began on the on the meat Then for flavour modern foodstuffs are really something aren't they This wouldn't be possible if

I added chinese miso(tube form)

I didn’t have chinese miso paste The harsh chinese miso paired with the fried vegetables and red boa A familiar smell came out when I was completed [Feru, dinners ready]

[I would be fine if it was only meat]

[having only meat would get unpleasant after a while wouldn’t it become unpleasant, it’s good to have a few vegetables every now and then]

[well, it might be nice to have some leaves occasionally, but it is not a problem if I don’t eat them, I have gone many years without eating leaves]

I wouldn’t have said it like that, it’s like you’re bragging about it Though what’s up with the leaves, are you a herbivore?

But you should eat some vegetables it’s not bad for your health I put a large quantity of the miso stir fried meat and vegetables in front of Feru who took the first mouthful He began to eat, piggy like always

Well, it’s to be expected

Miso is delicious afterall

Well, I should eat as well

Mm mm it’s delicious

…. But there is no rice

Rice would make it better

I… forgot completely

This, would be the best with rice

Though It can’t be helped so I ate it with bread instead I think I should stock up on rice

The meal was also popular with Feru who had 3 servings and seemed satisfied by the end of it Afterall Feru is a big eater

But, I wonder what the meat tomorrow will be like

Regarding the Display of an Outrageous Skill Which Has Incredible Powers - Chapter 17

Tondemo 17

The day after I acquired a large quantity of meat I Stood in front of the adventurerers guild with feru I went to the purchase window from yesterday, where the same person was standing [Good morning]

[ah, because the amount of meat is large, follow me into the warehouse]

Both me and feru follow

In the warehouse meat was piled up

[This is it]

This is even a large amount for the big eater feru, This might just last for a while I immediately put the meat in the item box

[I thought so as well yesterday, but you have quite a large item box don't you?]

To that question, I simply replied with [haa]

Because the meat is more important there is no time for respect (ED. rude guy….) With that my business here is done

To be honest though I don't think I will meet this guy again, I might not even come here again I am scheduled to go out of town by the end of today or tomorrow Staying to long will be bad

[Then next is the purchase of the materials]

When I finished with the meat, The old man came out with a jute bag which seemed heavy and put it out in front of me [Well, we should break it down, first the orc.The most valuable part is the testiciles, for the five it is two gold and five silver coins.Next the red boa.It is two gold and four silver for the 2 skins and fourfangs.For the cockatrice though, the meat has a high price the only thing sold are the wings, It is 3 silver per wing, but since one is damaged, it is only five silver.

The testicles of the orc, are one of the materials required for energy medicine, I hear that both are needed to produce one energy medicine (ED. “step right up step right we have grounded orc balls in a cup drink this to live forever”) Though It is slightly unpleasant, energy medicine is still very helpful.

The skin of the red boa is popular for shoes and bags, and recently red boa belts are becoming popular, while the fang is used to craft art The feathers from the wing of a cockatrice seems to be used as a pillow [next is The loc bird,It is seven gold coins for the wing and beak. The giant dodo is quite small, so it is not worth much, but because there is a demon stone it is worth 22 gold coins, And then the giant deer. The material from the giant deer is the skin and it also had a demon stone so it is 28 gold coins, you are quite lucky to get two demon stones]

The beak and feather from the lock bird seems to be used for arrows It seems to have quite the penetration ability so it’s worth quite a bit The giant dodo’s, beak is used in magic tools, like pendants and bracelets that have various effect, and the feathers seem to be materials for high level duvets For the giant dear the skin becomes leather armor, while the horn becomes good material for a wizards cane The demon stone that was taken from the deer and the dodo, seem to have many usages depending on the attribute. Because it can only be found in monsters of B rank it often is worth a large amount of money Not all rank B monsters have a demon stone though, it is only around 30% that have one, but the closer to Rank A you get the more common and stronger they are.

[next are the two A ranks, these are the first A ranks I have seen for quite some time. As for the materials, from the black serpant we have the poison sack, the livert, the fang, the eyes, The skin,With that and the demon stone, It becomes 64 gold coins.Next is the murder grizzly, liver, claws, Fur and the A rank demon stone it comes to 78 gold coins]

From the black serpent the poison sac has various uses many I don’t know but are scary, while the liver is used as a medicine for nutritional fortification The fang is used for evil things as well,The eyeball used for wands,The skin will become leather armor for a high ranking adventurer.The demon stone was of a good size and of the water element From the bear, the liver is used for medicine, as for the claws, nobles seem to buy them for evil tools, while the fur is used as rug The price for the demon stone was quite high as well because it was quite large [overall it is 205 gold coins and 4 silver. From there the dismantling cost will be deducted,There is a slight discount because it was a large amount and of high rank, so it was only two gold and four silver,For a total of 202 gold coins, currently it is all in gold coins, if you want, it is possible to exchange for some white gold coins large gold coins.

[no, it's fine as just the gold coins]

I commonly shop around in the town, and coins like large gold and white gold coins will not be accepted because the amount is to large.A large gold coin is the value of ten old coins Large coins like white gold or large gold, do not appear to often in the market Still, 200 is a lot of coins

Though, it doesn't really matter

For now, I have other thing to think about

Like what kind of meat I should feed to feru later

[I heard from an acquaintance that your contracted demon is a fenrir, is that correct?]

From behind me I heard a yawn, it seems feru is bored as well But, what is it?

[Well, if you say that, he is only just a great wolf]

I have also heard of the rumours about a [A guy with a fenrir following him entering the town]There would definitely be trouble for a person who has a legend following him,So I made up the lie that feru is not fenrir, but instead only a great wolf.

A great wolf seems to be the same size and also has the same grey coat that feru has, but is only A rank [In the first place, there is nobody who has seen fenrir in person,However, I wored as an adventurer before this.Though It's not worth uch from me this does not look like a fenrir Does fenru really look like a greatwolf?

Or did I hear it wrong

Maybe next time I should choose a smaller town,If I say feru is a great wolf, would it be easier to enter a town。

Though it might still cause a commotion as a ggreat wolf is still of A rank So I quickly gathered the money and left without another word if feru is a fenrir or not I passed through the eyes of the adventurers similar to yesterday and quickly left with feru [Feru, because I have finished everything I wanted in this town we are leaving, is that ok with you]

[It will be fine If I get to eat lots of delicious meals]

Is that so?

[Then, let’s go]

Thus with that we left Farieru town